

Coming Home: writing from the soul

A Spring Retreat for Women

Imagine being with a group of vibrant women who are tending their souls in a lovely, safe space. You will share this enriching time and space with others who come to experience writing as an entrance to the deeper self, doing so in the context of creative reflection, song, and dialogue. There will be time to relax, reflect, and develop your writing skills, plus the gift of relating to others equally intent on further discovery and celebration of their purpose and direction in life.

Joyce Rupp offers her extensive experience of spiritual growth through creative ritual and reflective conferences. Mary Kay Shanley brings her respected skills of teaching at the University of Iowa Summer Writing Festival and other national writing workshops to lead the group through inventive processes that develop and hone writing abilities.

Gift yourself with three days set apart just for YOU!

April 19 - 22, 2012 (Thursday evening to Sunday noon)

Servite Center of Compassion

7400 Military Avenue, Omaha, NE
One block north of 72nd Street and Military Avenue,
then west on Ames Circle
(motels within driving distance; airport 25 minutes)

Total Fee: $300 [includes snacks, beverages, 2 lunches, Saturday evening dinner]
$50 non-refundable deposit sent with reservation - assures your place at the retreat
$250 balance due April 1, 2012

Limited to 30 participants.

Joyce Rupp describes herself as a “spiritual midwife,” one who assists others in birthing their true self. She is the author of twenty books and gives conferences and retreats both nationally and internationally. Joyce is a Servite Sister and a volunteer for Hospice. To learn more, visit:

www.joycerupp.com

Mary Kay Shanley is the author of nine books, including She Taught Me to Eat Artichokes, a national best-seller. She’s happily discovered a second career—helping other women bring forth their writerly selves via workshops and classes she designs and conducts. To learn more, visit:

www.marykayshanley.com

Registration Form

Name _____

Phone: [home] _____ [cell] _____

Address _____

City _____ State _____ Zip _____

Email: _____

Please send registration form and check (payable to Servite Center of Compassion) to:

Servite Center of Compassion
7400 Military Avenue, Omaha, NE 68134

You will receive confirmation of your registration.

If your payment is received after the workshop has been filled, you will be notified and we will be happy to put you on a preferential list for possible cancellations and future workshops.

Questions?

Contact Margaret Stratman OSM at 402-951-3026 or scc@osms.org